Annual Vaccinations

What is involved?

First, the vet examines your pet thoroughly, checking for any signs of disease, which you may not have noticed.

Diagnosing a disease early may stop it from progressing and improves the success rate of any treatment so see it as your pet's annual M.O.T.

It is also a great chance for you to ask all those questions about your pet's health and lifestyle that you've been meaning to ask all year – when should I worm my cat? Is my dog fat? Don't be afraid to make a list and bring it with you!

The annual injection should be a very positive experience for you and your pet.

We use Intervet vaccines, because we believe that they provide the best protection available. For more information, visit the Intervet web site
